CALL FOR POSTERS

The poster session "99 Ways To..." is an opportunity for presenters to share information about a research problem, project or study with many colleagues. Presenters will be asked to remain close to their displays for questions and discussion. Free-standing poster boards are required (foam boards strongly encouraged). Displays must include TITLE with lettering at least 3 ½ - 4cm high, ABSTRACT, NAME and AFFILIATION of presenter(s). Tables up to 6 feet will be provided so poster and handouts for on-lookers should fit comfortably. Must specify in application if electrical outlets are required for display. Presenters must bring ALL materials (tape, tacks, glue, scissors, etc.) necessary for displaying poster -- these materials will NOT be provided. It is also a good idea to bring business cards and a sign-up sheet for names and addresses of future contacts. Graphics, tables and charts are welcomed. Deadline for applications is March 15. Candidates will be notified by or on April 1.

SPEAKER/PRESENTER BIOGRAPHIES

Judith Adams-Volpe

is Director of Lockwood Memorial Library, University at Buffalo since 1989. She is a past-president of SUNYLA, and previously held library positions at Lehigh University, Library of Congress, Georgetown University, and Auburn University. She is author of The American Amusement Park Industry: A History of Technology and Thrills, and many other books and articles relating technology and society/culture. She holds an MLS from Syracuse University, and an MA in English from Lehigh University.

Nancy Cannon

is Reference/Instruction Librarian at the College at Oneonta. Previously, she served five years as a Reference/Instruction Librarian at Binghamton University. Nancy serves as Chair of the SUNYLA Library Instruction Committee. She has an MLS from the University at Albany, and a BS in Biology from the University of Wisconsin.

Laura Cohen

is Network Services Librarian at the University at Albany Libraries. In this capacity, she serves as Webmaster of the Libraries' Web site located at <http://www.albany.edu/library>. She has lectured and taught extensively about the Internet, and has published articles and essays on this topic. Her online tutorials about the Internet are widely used. Laura is Web Manager of the SUNYLA Web site, and is a member of the SUNYLA Executive Board.

Kathleen M. DeLaney

is a librarian in the University Archives at the University at Buffalo, where she is engaged in the processing of the Love Canal Collection for digitization. Currently, she is also a labor history field archivist for the Buffalo & Erie County Historical Society where she conducts collection and organizational surveys for the Harry Van Arsdale Labor History Documentation Project in cooperation with the NYS Department of Labor, New York University, and Cornell University. She has an MLS from the University at Buffalo, an MA in Anglo-Irish Studies from the National University of Ireland, and a BA in English from Canisius College.

Christopher Densmore

is University Archivist at the University at Buffalo. He is a former chair of both the Lake Ontario Archives Conference and the Description Section of the Society of American Archivists. He is currently chair of the Canadian Friends Historical Association. He is author of Red Jacket: Iroquois Diplomat and Orator (Syracuse U. Press, 1999), and of articles on archives and history published in New York History, Quaker History, and other journals. Chris holds an MA in History from the University of Wisconsin, and a BA in History from Oberlin College.

John Ellison

has been a professor in the School of Information Studies at the University at Buffalo for the past 28 years. He has been teaching Distance Learning courses for the past four years at both the University at Buffalo and the University of Illinois. He was the first professor at UB to teach an online Distance Learning course. Next January, he will be a Fulbright Professor at the University of the West Indies where he will be working with faculty interested in Distance Learning, and he will also teach a Distance Learning course from the Caribbean for UB.

Peter Genovese

is Director of Libraries at Monroe Community College. He has served as a library director both in academic and public library settings. Peter is a frequent speaker at regional and international conferences, and he serves as a consultant in the areas of technology planning, library building program development, organizational change and innovation. His most recent assignments have been in Pakistan, Trinidad/Tobago, and the Ukraine. He holds an MLS from SUNY Geneseo, and a BA in Anthropology from the University at Buffalo.

Carol Anne Germain

is the Networked Resources Education Librarian at the University at Albany. Her current interests are in the development of remote access library instruction tutorials, although she continues to enjoy working with students at the reference desk and in the traditional classroom.

John Hammond

is the Executive Director of the North Country Reference and Research Resources Council. He is the former Chair of the Legislative Committee of the New York Library Association and a current member of the Regents Commission on Libraries.

is Information Services Group Leader and Government Documents Librarian at Plattsburgh State University. He has taught library and information research skills for the last fifteen years. In addition to LIB 101, a required one-credit General Education course, he has taught course-related sessions and instructional technology workshops. For the past six years, he has team taught in a freshman learning community.

is currently the Assistant Provost overseeing the SUNY Office of Library and Information Services (OLIS) where he supports and coordinates a variety of cooperative library programs within the State University. OLIS is currently coordinating the SUNYConnect initiative that will create a seamless interface to the entire SUNY library collection, expand electronic resources for all libraries, and build shared storage facilities that can be used by all SUNY libraries. Prior to working for OLIS, Carey was the Senior Library Liaison Officer for SUNY/OCLC, responsible for providing technical support to libraries in the areas of microcomputer systems and software, and telecommunications technology. Carey holds an MLS from the University at Maryland, and a BA in Philosophy from the State University College at Brockport.

Janet Hogan

is Reference and Instruction Librarian in the Bartle Library at Binghamton University. She is a member of the Binghamton Libraries Instruction Working Group, and coordinates the training of the students who work at the Reference Desk as Library Peer Assistants. She is a member of the SUNYLA Library Instruction Committee.

Judith Hopkins

is Technical Services Research and Analysis Officer in Central Technical Services in the Libraries of the University at Buffalo, where she is presently involved with Metadata initiatives. She began her career as a cataloger at Mount Holyoke College, then the Yale Law Library, and then became one of the first library professionals (along with Fred Kilgour) on the staff of OCLC in the late sixties. She has been active throughout her career in ALA, presently serving as the Cataloging and Classification Section's representative to the ALCTS Committee on Electronic Communications, and as a member of the Committee on Cataloging, Description and Access Task Force on Metadata. She has recently been a presenter at an invitational seminar on Metadata sponsored by the National Autonomous University of Mexico in Mexico City.

Dan Kissane

is Systems Librarian and Library Web Coordinator at SUNY College at Oneonta. Previously, he was Assistant Systems Librarian at McNeese State University in Lake Charles, LA. Dan holds an MA in Educational Technology from McNeese State University, an MLIS from Louisiana State University, and a BA in English from Sonoma State University.

Mary-Alice Lynch

is the Executive Director of NYLINK (formerly the SUNY/OCLC Network) since 1996. NYLINK is a membership-supported organization that provides computer training, support, and services to over 700 libraries in New York State and surrounding areas. Prior to NYLINK, Mary-Alice was the Director of Learning Resources at Adirondack Community College, Head of Technical Services/Systems at Schenectady County Community College, and held positions at Sweet Briar College, Schenectady County Public Library, Mohawk Valley Library Association, and the Brookline Public Library. She has had leadership roles in RONDAC, the Regional OCLC Network Directors Advisory Council, including the Task Force on Distance Learning, the Advisory Committee for the OCLC Institute, and the Executive Council. Mary-Alice has recently been elected Chair-Elect of RONDAC. She has also served as Chair of the SUNY Council of Library Directors. She earned her MLS from SUNY Albany, and a BA from Syracuse University.

Kate Majewski

is Reference, Instruction, and Cataloging Librarian at SUNY College of Technology at Delhi. She has worked in SUNY libraries in various roles since her sophomore year of college in 1989. Kate's interests include assessment of library instruction and bibliographic access to digital collections. She received her MLS from the University at Buffalo.

Kathleen Miller

is the Executive Director of the Rochester Regional Library Council. She is currently the President of the Academic and Special Libraries Section of the new York Library Association, Chair of SONAC, and a member of the NYLA Legislative Committee.

Marilyn K. Moody

is the Director of the Science and Engineering Library at the University at Buffalo. She has worked with faculty on various projects involving the integration of technology into teaching and learning. Ms. Moody is the editor of Internet Reference Services Quarterly, and the author of Using Government Information Sources: Print and Electronic (Oryx, 1994).

Bern Mulligan

is Reference Librarian/Bibliographer at Binghamton University's Bartle Library and is a member of the Libraries' Web team. He has an MLS from the University at Albany, and an MA in English from Binghamton University.

Eileen O'Hara

is Head of Circulation/Class Reserves at Drake Memorial Library, College at Brockport. As a member of the Library's Strategic Planning Committee, she presented the E-Reserves Project to the library administration. Eileen has been active in state and local library assistant organizations. During 1992, she conducted numerous focus group sessions interviewing library assistants in the Rochester area for an ALA study on library support staff issues. She has served on the NYSLAA Executive Committee for three years and she received the NYSLAA Award for Outstanding Service in 1992. She is presently pursuing her MSL degree at the University at Buffalo.

Pamela O'Sullivan

has been in the Rochester Public Library system since 1981. She received her MLS from SUNY-Buffalo, and her BA in English from Nazareth College of Rochester. Over the years, she has held a variety of positions, from Children's Librarian to Assistant Division Head of the Local History and Genealogy Department. Since January 1998, she has been Manager of the SUNY Student Resource Center, a unique collaborative between three SUNY schools and the Rochester Public Library.

Virginia Papandrea

is currently the Assistant Dean at the School of Information Science and Policy at the University at Albany. She will be leaving this position to take a position this fall as assistant professor in the Library and Information Science Program at Wayne State University in Detroit. From 1974 to 1988, Ms. Papandrea held positions in public and technical services at SUNY College at Brockport. She has a BA in English, an MA in English, MLS and MPA and is now a PhD candidate in the Department of Public Administration, University at Albany. Her degree is expected in August of this year. She is currently completing a dissertation entitled: "The Convergence of Academic Libraries and Computing Centers: An Analysis of Merging Two Cultures."

Barbara Nichols Randall

is Assistant Director at Guilderland Public Library. She has worked previously at the University at Albany, WSWHE BOCES School Library System, Siena College, the New York State Library, and at the SUNY Office of Library Services (now SUNY OLIS). While at the State Library, Barbara was Project Director of the New York State Newspaper Project and the NYSL CONSER Project.

Larry Randall

is SUNYConnect Project Coordinator, following serving nine years as Library Director at SUNY Purchase. He is a member of SLiCAT (SUNY Library Contract Advisory Team), represents SUNY on the NY Consortium of Consortia, has served on SONAC, and as president of the Geac North American Users Group. His previous library positions have been at Rockland Community College and at the US Military Academy at West Point.

Marilyn Rosenthal

is Reference Librarian and Interlibrary Loan Supervisor at Nassau Community College Library. She serves as a member of the College Executive Committee, Vice Chair of the Academic Senate, President of the Women's Faculty Association, and she has been an Executive Board member of ACRL/NY. She has published two book chapters and numerous journal articles. She received her MLS from Long Island University, an MA from New York University, and a BA from Vassar College.

Marsha Spiegelman

is Reference Unit Head at Nassau Community College Library. As both the technology liaison for Reference and a member of her department's Personnel and Budget Committee, Professor Spiegelman is actively involved in the selection, evaluation, and assessment of digital resources for the library. She holds an MLS from St. John's University, an MA from New York University, and a BA from Ithaca College.

Karen Schneider

is Director of the Garfield Library, Brunswick, NY. Previously she was Director of the US EPA Region 2 New York Library; Electronic Resources Librarian at Newark Public Library, Newark, NJ; Children's Librarian and Electronic Resources Librarian at Queens Public Library; and a Captain in the US Air Force. She is author of the popular column, "The Internet Librarian," appearing in American Libraries, and two books related to the Internet: A Practical Guide to Internet Filters (Neal Schuman, 1997), and The Internet Access Cookbook (Neal Schuman, 1996). She is a present member of ALA Council, and is a frequent speaker in the national context on intellectual freedom, Internet, and access issues.

Karen Senglaup

is Director of General Libraries Access Services at the University at Buffalo. She planned the transition to electronic access of reserve readings at UB, as well as the creation of the four new "Cybrary" computers for students areas in the Libraries. She is currently on a University committee reviewing campus policies on copyright and fair use. Prior to her library career, Karen served as a Sergeant in the US Army inspecting and protecting our nuclear arsenal in Germany.

Maureen Zajkowski

is presently serving as SUNY Library Automation Migration Project Manager, on leave from her position in the Binghamton University Libraries. She works with a team of SUNY librarians in the selection process to recommend a library management system that may be utilized by all SUNY libraries. At Binghamton University, she has been a technical services librarian for twelve years. Maureen is a SUNYLA past-President, and has also served SUNYLA as newsletter co-editor, Secretary, and Annual Conference Coordinator.

DIRECTIONS TO ACC

- Northway (I-87) to Exit 19 Queensbury
- Turn right onto Rte. 254 and follow green signs to ACC.
(Detailed version: Follow Rte. 254 east for a mile or two; you'll go past Aviation Mall, through the intersection of Rte. 9, then go for a few more lights until you see a Aldi's Supermarket followed by a Hannaford. There's a giant new Lowe's on the opposite corner. Turn left at this intersection, Bay Rd. Go about 1 mile until you see the stop light at ACC's entrance.)
- Turn in at the traffic light, then look left to the new building with the satellite dish on top. That's the Scoville Learning Center. Park anywhere. Walk in; at the end of the hall is the library.
